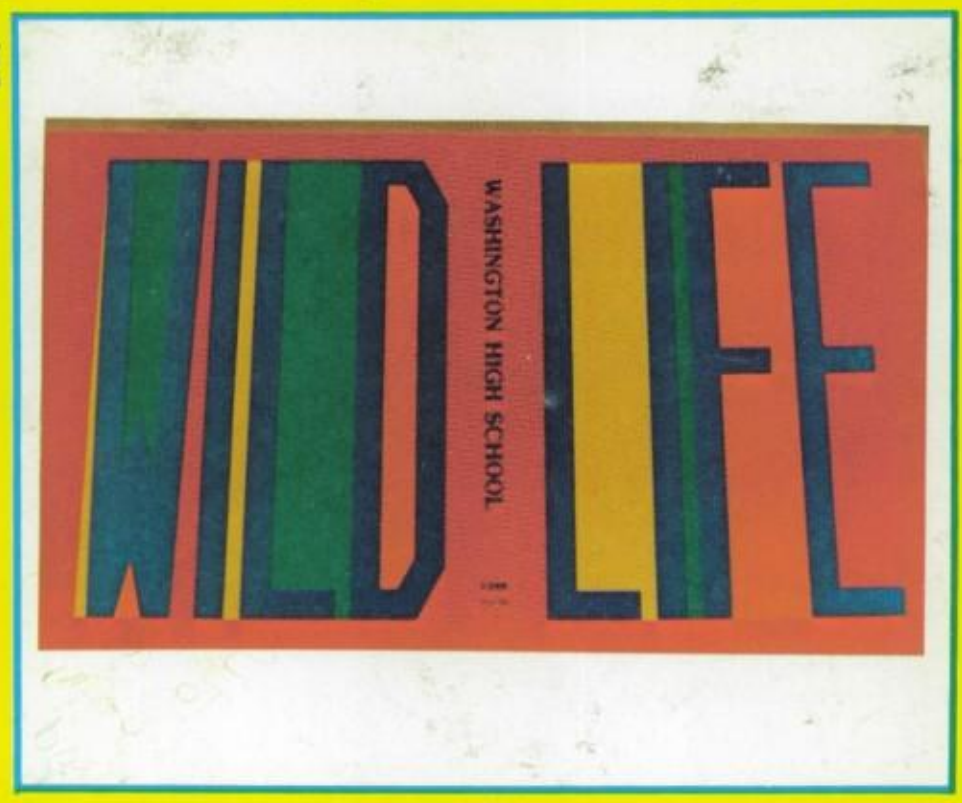
Call of the WILD

What is the wildlife? Does it include cruising through B.K. on Friday nights or having a good time at a party? Is it enthusiasm triggered at pep rallies or during 7th hour on Fridays? Is it unruly seniors taping up freshmen? Is it hanging around the auditorium beat-boxing before school?

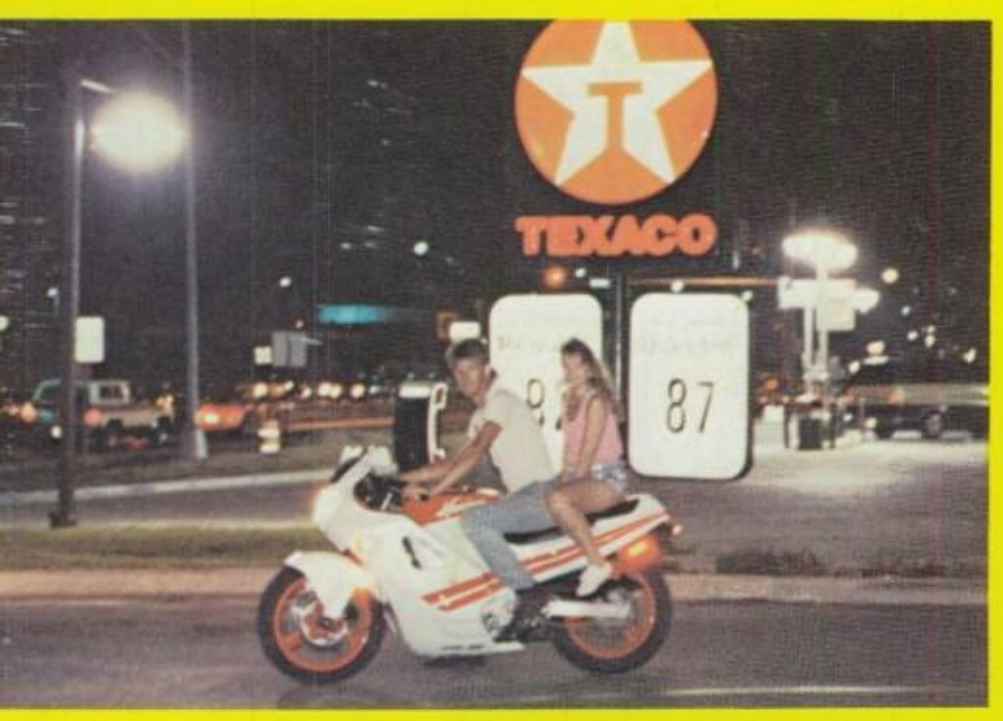


Wildlife can also pertain to letting out that big roar after a test or after sweating through the ACT. It can mean celebrating after winning the musical contest or mastering that debate.

How does one feed the wildlife? Try shoveling in chips, candy, cookies, and pop. It must be the sugar that keeps us active and on the prowl.

Well, the wildlife is at WHS. Even though some may not be the partying 'Joe Cool,' everyone at some time has that 'wild' streak that is set free.

The 1987-88 Hatchet Staff therefore captures that 'wildlife' for you.



INTO THE NIGHT. Alauna Elevier, senior, clinches the seat of a Honda while cruising through B.K.

Special thanks to Keith Timberlake for going to the Topeka World Famous Zoo in order to photograph the Wildcat found on the title page. Also to Dennis Schurr, a 1987 graduate for his artistic talents in designing the cover and helping with the computer. Thank you also to Bob Gadd from ICP for his suggestions and special arrangements for our cover and endsheet production. Story and layout by C. Cogley; insert photo of cover by L. Goheen.

TRADITIONS

Anything can happen At The Prom

IT'S THE STUFF DREAMS/NIGHTMARES ARE MADE OF.

Time flies when you're having fun, but the memories of an unforgettable prom night will last forever. For some, prom night is filled with romance and surprises. For others it was a total disaster.

Weeks of preparation, and the big night finally comes. Everything seems so perfect, but then everything seems to all come at once. The dance is hours away, you've spent weeks preparing. The one night that you need your hair to do what you want, and it doesn't. You get to the dance, and his tux doesn't match. Your date is half drunk, and you have to hold your breath every time you dance together. At least he did remember to dance with you on your special song. You have just about had enough of this whole night and get ready to walk out and leave him sitting there. Then he takes your hand and gives you a big hug and says he is sorry for being such a jerk all night.

Anything can happen on that special evening, but memories of prom, good and bad, will always be remembered. Story by C. Pack; layout by R. Marshall and L. Goheen.

NEVER SAY GOODBYE. Students give congratulation hugs and wish the best of luck.

HERE WE GO AGAIN! To start off another commencement, Mr. Bill Todd, principal, begins his traditional speech.

DRAMA DEPARTMENT PULLS IT OFF AGAIN! ANOTHER HIT ON THEIR HANDS!

BAD SEED

Washington High School's auditorium was packed to the hilt December 3rd and 5th due to the drama production titled 'The Bad Seed.'

'The Bad Seed' is about a evil little girl named Rhoda who had inherited the traits of evilness from her mother's past. The past of murders.

In order to get the penmanship medal that Rhoda did not win, she kills one of her schoolmates. Her mother finds the penmanship medal hidden in Rhoda's jewelry box, and confronts Rhoda. Her lies lead to the boy giving her the medal. As more and more people turn up dead, Rhoda later admits to killing the little boy.

Mrs. Penmark knows that there is no way of stopping her little girl.

As night begins to fall, Mrs. Penmark cannot take it anymore. She gives Rhoda an overdose of pills, and locks herself in her room, only to commit suicide. As the play closes, Mr. Penmark comes home and Rhoda lives. Story and layout by C. Beth.

RAW EVIDENCE. In trying to get a hold of the 'killer shoes', Christine Jenny Watkins wrestles with her daughter Rhoda Paige Mann.

WHO DID IT? Mr. and Mrs. Daigle Shana Cross and David Lusk try to find out information from Mrs. Fern, Rhoda's teacher, Cindy Bowen, because they suspect she knows something about Claude's death.

THE ROYAL COUPLE. Bobby Taylor and Ubi Cooper, seniors, were elected King and Queen at the 1987-88 Sweetheart Dance.

MAKIN' MEMORIES. Darrin Cornelius and Jeanne Brown dance the night away.

WHO WILL WIN? The anticipation builds for Bobby Taylor, Ubi Cooper, Scott Whitney, Veronica White, Scott Wagner, Angel Findley, Plillip Chancey and Anita Bush.

Getting ready for a dance is almost as fun as going. Worrying about where the money is coming from is the worst part. If you're lucky, mom and dad supply the dough. But for those less fortunate, working people that have to plan ahead of time for the big night, use their money wisely.

Girls have to worry the least, buying a dress anywhere from $40 - $80, with matching shoes, $20 and the guy's boutonniere for about $5 - $10.

On the other hand, guys better be rakin' in the money. A suit or pants and jacket range anywhere from $50 - $95. A jacket and pants could be mixed and matched from a previous dance. And then there's tickets, $5 and pictures, $8. You must never forget the corsage. These could cost anywhere from $5 - $20.

Dinner. You've got to eat, right? Depending where you eat depends on how much money you spend. McDonalds is out of the question. Chi Chi's, Annie's Sante Fe or Starker's on the Plaza are nice for around $20. If you really want to step up go to the Skies and spend $60.

But no matter what you do or how much you spend you should relax, have fun and be swept off your feet! Story and Layout by N. Peacher; Photos complements of DeCloud

TENDER LOVE. Jeff Thieman and Angie Taylor share a precise moment together.

ARE WE HAVING FUN YET? WHS students enjoy each others company and listen to the sweet music.

Well Shannon thanks for all the space you left for me to sign. I mean like really. I can read oops write a book in all that blank space you left me. That is what Senior friends are for. And I really appreciate it. Now that I have that off my chest let me get on with my autograph

ON THEIR WAY. The 1987 girls varsity and freshman track team had several highlights to carry them through the season.

OFF TO A GOOD START. The 1987 boys freshman track team gained valuable experience.

Right On Track

The Wildcats Pounce On Their Competition

Running the best 200 split ever of 21.2 in the sprint medley and the 400 relay, Chuck Allen took first place and set the school record, the meet record and the best time in the state.

Included in the success of the track and field season, the Wildcats defeated Harmon by one point without the assistance of the top five varsity team members who were competing in the University of Kansas Relays.

In the Washington Relays, placing sixth out of nine teams, Ferric Webster surprised his fellow team members by placing fourth in a 400 run of 50.81.

The Wildcats placed second in the Kansas State Championship Track and Field, competition. This was the highest ranking the boys team received in the state meet. Kenny Kincaid and Aaron Harvey captured second place rankings.

Several members of the girls varsity team suffered injuries throughout the season, setting back their particpation and accomplishments. Kim Frakes managed to overcome recurring personal injuries throughout the spring and won a slot to participate in the state meet in the high jump.

Another team member, Tonya Long, set a new javelin record.

The girls varsity team closed the season by catching the third place ranking in the KCK League. Story by N. Peacher; layout by J. Pierce

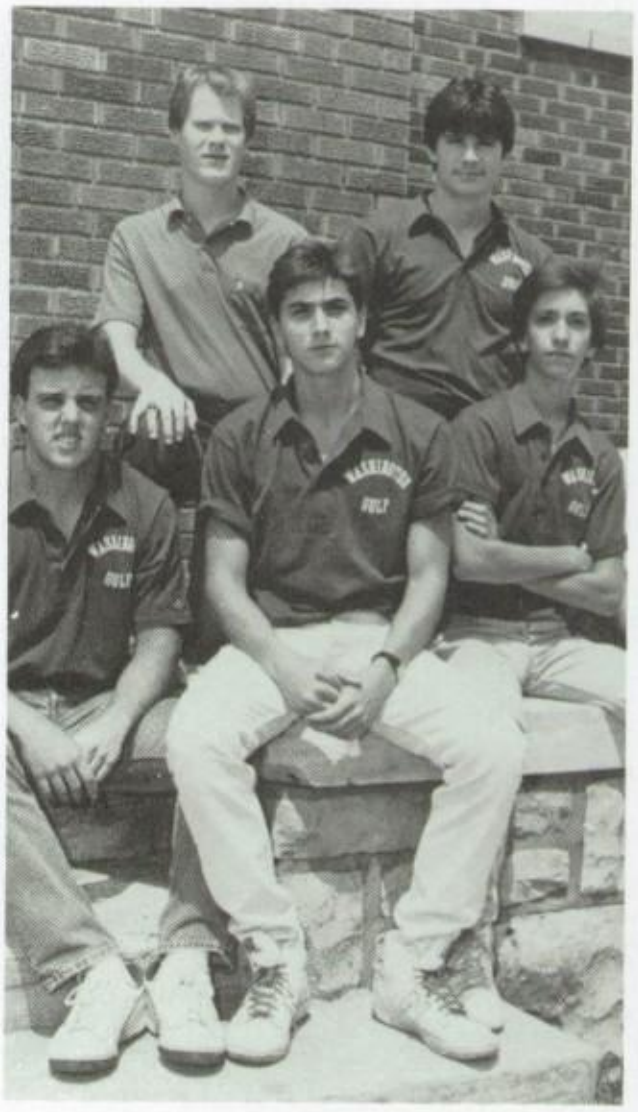
THINKING POSITIVELY. The '87 girls swim team struggled through another difficult year.

KEEPING THE PACE. The '87 tennis teams' season looked pretty good.

SMALL BUT MIGHTY. The '87 golf team may have been small, but they had a big season.



SPLASH WING SERVE

SHINING INDIVIDUAL'S MAKE A COMMITMENT TO SUCCESS

The 87-88 golf team's largest strength was the fact that they all got along well with each other. One problem the team faced this year was that there were only two returning lettermen from last year. It was hard to top the records set last year by the 86-87 team, but with determination, Washington showed their usual school spirit.

The girl's swimming team consisted of 10 swimmers that were coached by Mereditth Beachley and Scott Griswald. The relay team qualified to go to state, but they didn't place at the meet. After a 0-11 record, the girls still held together.

The 87-88 tennis team finished with five wins and six loses. Their number one strength was the fact that they were all beginners. They all worked together to learn the terms associated with the game, like love which means match point or green which is the court. Although they were inexperienced they worked hard to overcome their disadvantages.

The overall spring sport season showed great promise, and individual potential. As the season progressed, the teams improved greatly. Looking forward to sharpening their skills the Wildcats hope to do better next year with the experience of many new coaches and returning letterman. Story and Layout by C. Pack and K. Closson

Kittens..... But only at heart

With an overall average of 15 wins and 4 loses, the varsity team worked hard for an outstanding season.

'I was proud of the team for always working as a team and for always striving for the best and our biggest highlight was being included in the first team in the all Kansan,' said Linda Brady

Becki Story hit the ball and played the field better than expected and was added to the outstanding players of the varsity team.

An important rule which strenghthened the 1987 team were the pitchers, Mary Renne and Diana Bartkoski. Both of the girls played a big part in the strength of the team.

Coach Stuart Ciske also describes the highlight of the season, 'Beating SMNW was my greatest highlight.'

The main strength of the JV team was hitting. Seven players hit over .400 during the season.

A Natural High

With an overall average of 12 wins and 7 losses, the varsity baseball team hit the year off with highlights. The 1986-87 most valuable players were Kevin Young, Butch Cole, David Terrell, and Matt Goldbeck, as sophomore starter. Coach Rich Piper, revealed how proud he was of the team, when he spoke of one of the greatest highlights of the season,"being co-champions again, and placing second in region." As for the team, beating Ward was their highlight. "We treasured the respect of our team, there is alot of respect. The Ward game was the most pressured game of the season. We felt we had to win," says Robert Findley.

With 10 wins and 4 loses, the JV team played a super season. Lonnie Spiess dislayed leadership qualities and lead the team in hitting. A few more valuable players were Chad Chambers, who lead defensively and showed outstanding qualities in pitching, Ryan McCombs who had a batting average of 428, and Brent DeMarcus who led the team in base hits, doubles, triples, and homeruns. *Story by G. Defense didn't allow a single point in the second half through the first full football games of the season. The Wildcats didn't allow more than two touchdowns from their opponents per game.

Ward, Sumner, and Leavenworth were the most memorable games. The game against Ward was memorable because it was Homecoming, and there was a lot of school spirit, and the Wildcats played hard. Sumner, because the Wildcats have beat them every year and Leavenworth, because they are a Sunflower League School.

Six players were recognized this season for their importance to the team. Awarded most valuable player, Jerome Byers-,senior; most inspirational, Lionell Henderson, senior. Seniors Duane Watson and Ross McCombs were awarded Mr.Wildcat awards, and seniors Bobby Taylor and Jeff Syrus were named co-captains.

"Our team was 3-6, we played hard and never gave in. Each of the kids were in every football game played," stated Coach Harms.

When the wildcats played Leavenworth they defeated them and ended the year on a winning note.

Getting defeated on our home field by Washburn caused heartache for the Wildcats, but this didn't stop their stride to keep reaching for the top and looking out for number one!

'I think our defense was one of the best advantages we had this year, and offense just needed a better line,' said Syrus.

'We played hard but I think we could have done a lot better. We decided we wanted to play football in the second quarter, and we lost some good games. We ran too many powe: plays, and needed to run more option and outside plays. All and all, we had good leadership qualities throughout the season,' said senior Nick Porras.*Story and layout by G. The freshmen Wildcat football team had a very successful year according to first year coach Mike Mathews.

Team leadership was inspired by co-captains Chester Baker and Darren Thomas. Offensively, the team was lead by quarterback Frank Kuzmic and halfbacks, Thomas and Kemp Rayford. The offensive line was led by Baker, Jason Herrell, Jay Glander and the 'Most Improved player' Doniel Quinn.

The most dominating aspect was the defense which allowed an average seven points per game. Terry Brooks played defensive end with support from the line, line backers and secondary.

'The future of this team is bright. They will redefine the winning tradition of Wildcat football,' said Mathews.

Because of injuries many sophomores were used in JV games. In spite of the drawbacks the team never gave up. Coach Jim Reitemeier stated 'We won close games we lost last year. We got better with each game.The offense showed at times they could move the ball at will.'

Chad Chambers was voted 'Most Valuable Player' by the coaching staff, and deserving honorable mention were Earnie Lambert and Matt Goldbeck. Layout by N. Jones

G U T S and Bruises

The 1987 soccer team fell into a disappointing season with 3 wins, two ties and nine loses.

The defense suffered a loss when Goalie John Crocker got pneumonia with ten games left to play. Gilbert Gonzalez came to the rescue by moving up to Varsity Goalie.

Even though the defense as a whole was somewhat weak, John Crocker and Doug Pearson played outstanding with David Moore voted as most valuable player.

A disapointing season didn't diminish individual accomplishments.

'Crocker, Colbach, Lusk and Moore are all college natural players,' stated Smith, 'They are all talented players. I will miss them next year, but expect good things from them.

However, the seniors shoes will be replaced by the JV members who also experienced a good season.

INDIVIDUAL RUNNERS FIND REWARDS IN PERSONAL ACCOMPLISHMENTS

For the first meet of the 1987 cross country season, the Wildcats went to Heritage Park for the Olathe South Invitational. This was the first time WHS had ever taken part in this meet. Leading the way for the Wildcats, Tony Howard finished 28th with a time of 18:20, in the 5K race.

In the second meet of the season, the Wildcats ran in the Pioneer Invitational at Leavenworth. Once again Howard finished on top for WHS. With a time of 18:22, he placed 16th . Brian McGee placed 27th and improved his time with a 19:32.

The best overall JV runner was Brian Ammon. He placed 51st with a time of 22:14.

The third WHS meet ran well for Howard. He took 8th place with his best time of 17:45. McGee placed 27th with a 18:54.

At the fourth meet, the team placed 4th in the Wyandotte Invitational.

Howard also ran in the eighth meet and placed 21st with a 17:42.

The Wildcats ended the season with Regionals at Shawnee Mission Park. Howard was the only runner who participated for WHS. Layout and story by T. Grzybowski.

The varsity volleyball team did start out with just a few wins, but once they started winning they started believing in themselves and gradually wiped 'em out. 'The girls didn't do anything different during practice. Once they beat Harmon and Ward, it gave them confidence in themselves,' said Coach Mike Scott. Taking 2nd place in the Round Robin, placing 3rd in the Olathe North tournament and 3rd in the League tournament, Coach Scott feels they had a good season. Several WHS players placed in the Kansas City Kansas All League Selections. League coaches chose the best players of the League teams excluding their own team. The JV volleyball team had an encouraging season this year with major wins over Bonner and Leavenworth. Domineering scores in those two games was an up boost for the team, and helped to offset losses to Wyandotte and Harmon.

Maryann McCarville, JV coach, said the team experienced many frustrations throughout the season, but the losses did make the team enjoy and appreciate their victories.

The freshman team record of 19-2 was not as kind to school records, but did not in the least damper the enthusiasm and effort of individual team members.

Beating Ward on their home courst was also a big victory for the ladies, since they had not won a game at Ward in eight years.

Leader of the Pack

The 1987-88 Varsity Cheerleaders.

VARSITY

This year Varsity took on some difficult changes. With only eight girls on the squad to begin with, one quit before school let out, two more were lost after football, and the last one quit at the beginning of Basktetball. The drastic change in size lead to a change in performance. Less mounts and cheers were unable to be done and the spirit lessened. During the first of the Basketball season the Varsity combined with Freshman.

'It will help the performance of our games and we'll be louder and more effective than with just four girls.' KIm Closson, Varsity.

'It was fun cheering with the Varsity. It brought us together and our effectiveness was well worth the practice,' said Shannon Verbanic, freshman.

WIN FROM WITHIN

MENTAL DESIRE IS AS IMPORTANT AS PHYSICAL EFFORT.

Within the hearts of true competitors is the dream of being the best. The dream is easy yet the daily drugdery becomes monotonous. The effort is mental as well as physical. "I think I can!" Discipline and desire are required to keep going. The mind is the biggest enemy. Some exercise for competition while others exercise to remain physically fit.

Cheryl Pack, junior, started jogging three miles every day about three years ago. 'I don't like to run for competition, I just like to run for myself,' Pack said. She also runs to lose weight and to get rid of stress. 'When I'm mad at my boyfriend it relieves my frustration and allows me to think clearly,' stated Pack.

Tony Howard, junior, also runs for exercise, but he likes the competition. Howard commented, 'I like to beat people and prove that I'm better. He runs anywhere from five to ten miles a day. 'You get out of it what you put into it,' said Howard. He has personal goals and a high expectation of going to the Olympics someday.

Kurt Wilson, sophomore, also has an olympic dream of being the youngest cyclist ever to compete in the Olympic games. At first, Wilson picked up cycling as sort of a hobby. He and some of his friends would take a day and go riding. They rode around Wyandotte County Lake, to Leavenworth, to Lawrence, and Wilson even took part in the annual bike across Kansas. Then one day he and his friends decided to join the K.C.Bicycle Club and this is what drew Wilson to racing. As a first year rider he has won many awards and qualified himself for the National U.S.Cycling Federation Championships in Boulder, Colorado. Unfortunately, Wilson was involved in an accident in the mountains previous to the race and was unable to compete, but he recovered from knee surgery and was back to racing in mid-September when he had to have corrective surgery to his left hand compound fracture in November. After all of this Wilson still managed to finish as the fourth junior in the K.C.Cup Series in October. Story and layout by L. Goheen.

STRONG IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE

Strengthening the mind in addition to toning the muscles brings success for the Wildcat Strength Club.

Sweat, stink, hurt, struggle. Why would anyone want to spend hours lifting weights? Because sweat, stink, hurt, and struggle turn into hard muscles for the Wildcat Strength Club, composed of just three members, Ray Mabion, Tom Elliott, and Eric Powell.

The stereo type of a weightlifter is often a macho male on steroids who thinks he is superior to those who don't lift, and while lifting weights is physical, the struggle is also mental.

"Strength and power are the keys to success on the football field,"said Ray Mabion. The Wildcat Strength Club helps an athlete reach that goal.

Mabion feels a sense of satisfaction and accomplishment in knowing that through weight lifting he is improving himself. Even though he sometimes feels sore and drained, he often feels strengthened and energetic. Weight lifting increases his self esteem.

Elliott lifts weights once a day during 7th hour and sometimes after school and at home. He feels good physically, mentally, and emotionally after lifting. He feels strong on days he completes a hard workout, and weak on the days he doesn't. Elliott tries to finish so the good feeling will follow. "I enjoy lifting, it helps me keep in shape and it makes me feel good."

Eric Powell believes weightlifting makes him a better football player. "It helps me hit harder and take more hits without getting hurt so much. I get stronger and recover from injuries faster." Powell lifts weights five days a week. When he is on his last set, he has a choice: to lift and get stronger or to skip it and gain nothing. Even though he is tired and worn out after a workout, he feels good physically and mentally. He agrees with Elliott and Mabion that lifting increases self-esteem. "I feel like a new person after I lift." Story and layout by L. Goheen.

I Don't think that age should really matter. Michelle Kent, senior

The days have changed and as each year passes on a teenagers life and life style's change too. The teenagers of '88' gather at such places as the Plaza, BK, Pogo's, The Red Balloon, Peter's Drive In, and, of course, Wyandotte County Lake. But teenagers tend to go to a variety of places when out on a date. Teenagers just cannot stay in one place, They have to move about, and todays teenagers enjoy sharing their lives with another person- now more than ever before.

Not every two people you see out on a date are alike. Everyone has a different outlook on dating and have their own opinions on what a great date is.

A date is going to the movies, dancing, out to dinner or maybe just a stroll under the moonlight with that special someone.

Dating can be one's means of falling in love, especially if you've known the person a while. Teenagers tend to get more involved with a person they already know then with a person they know little about. Although blind dates can lead into falling in love, it is a big step for teenagers. The step of you being able to get along with that person and whether or not you and your date are right for each other. But, nevertheless, it is all up to you. Layout-,storyby C. Beth

To go and pick up a girl at about 6:30 or 7:00. Go to a nice place to eat, then to go see a movie and after the movie is over to go out dancing somewhere where there is alot of people to be around and then take her home afterwards Brian

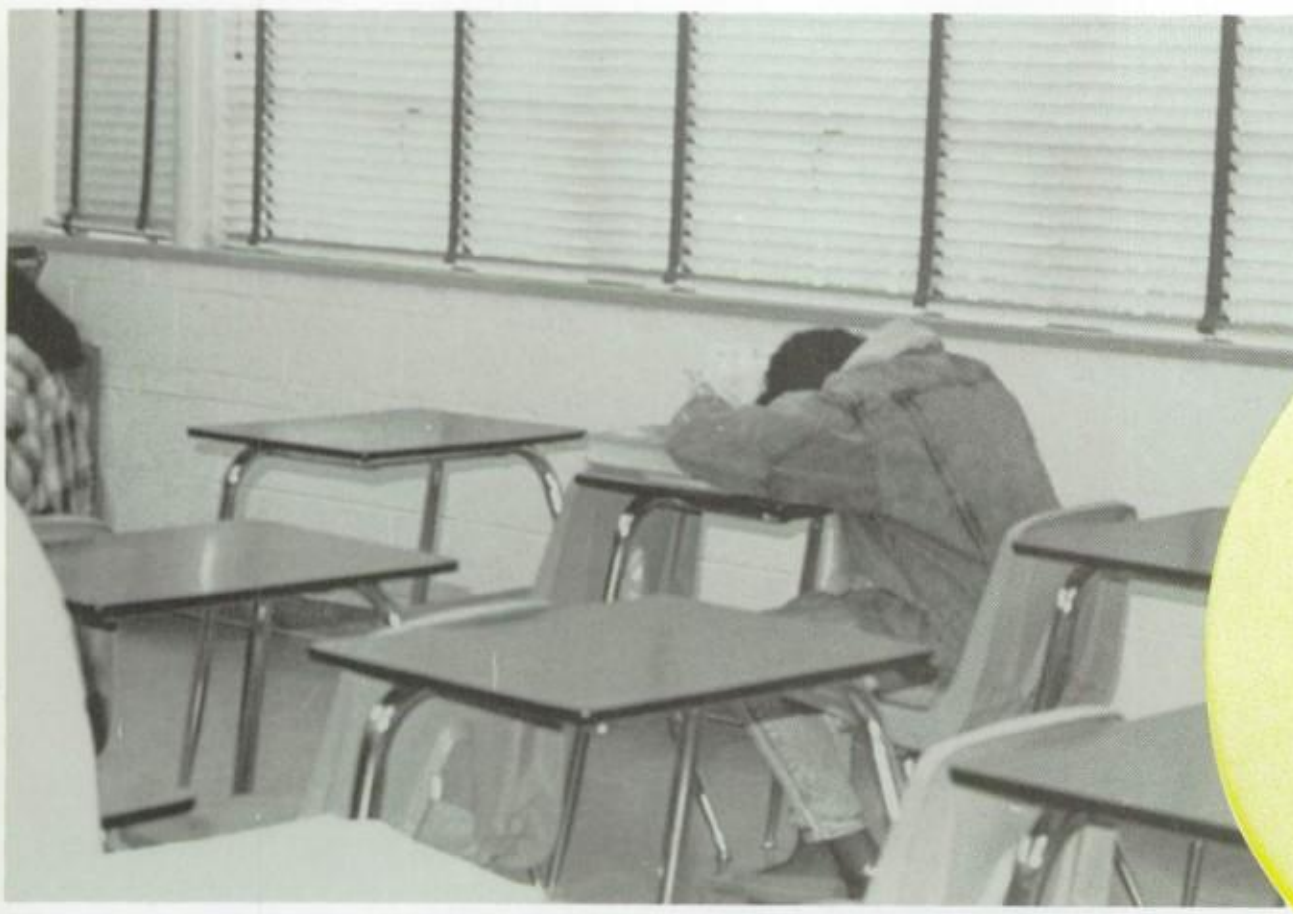
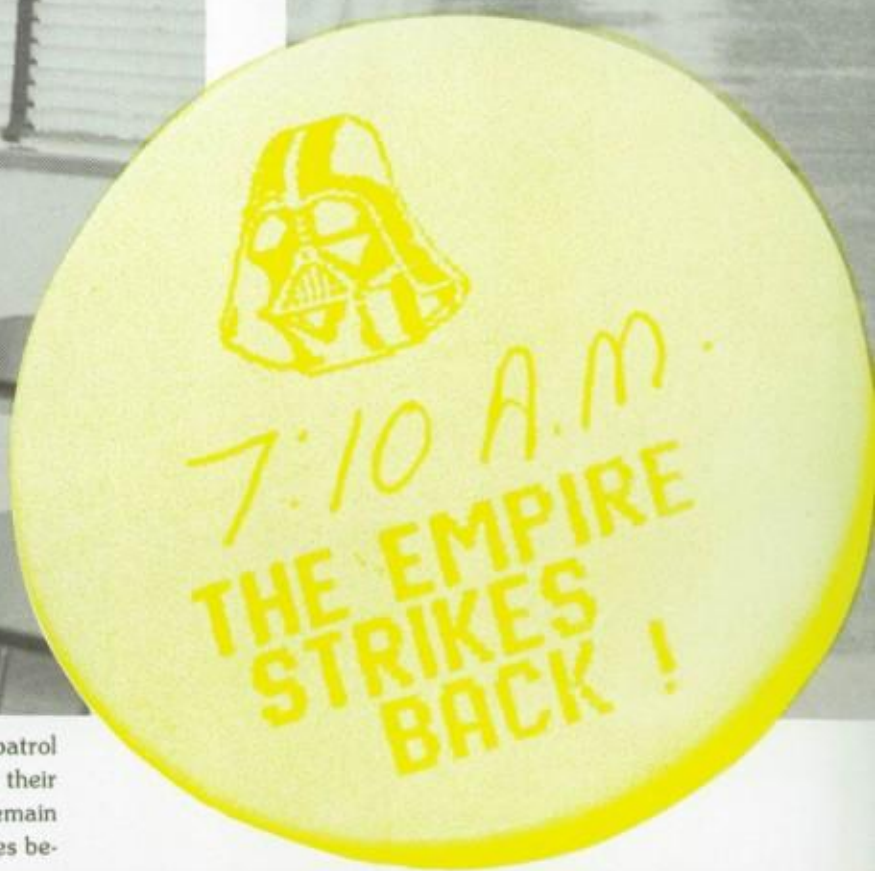
A BROKEN TRADITION

TAKING THEIR TIME. Seniors Kim Closson and Nichole Peacher no longer rush to school and to the glass hallway to see and be seen.

MAKING UP FOR LOST TIME. Some students now have plenty of time to 'sleep in', at least in their first hour before class begins.





A LITLE HUMOR. Teachers were on patrol duty as they were instructed to be by their classsroom doors at the bell and to remain there to keep the halls clear until classes began.

Due to disruptive behavior, students lose the privilege of gathering in glass hallway

AN EMPTY TRADITION. The once crowded hallway is now a thing of the past.

HITTNG THE BOOKS. Seniors Shelly Dillard and Kelly Dillard use their extra time before school to do some last minute studying.

Gone are the days when the yearbook featured the traditional crowded glass hallway picture. Gone are the days when seniors nabbed selected freshmen and initiated them to WHS by taping them to the poles and windows. Gone are the days when the guys rushed to the hallway to grab the best railing seats lining the hallway so they could catcall and oogle the girls.

And, yes, gone are the days when the pushing and shoving got out of hand and resulted in fights - fights that seemed to occur daily. Yes, gone are the days when the crowded conditions resulted in broken windows, mean tempers and angry feelings.

On November 17, principal Bill Todd presided over two assemblies. He informed students the number of fights was on the increase. He asked students to take responsibility for their behavior and assist in improving the situation.

To no avail. Four fights, including one in the cafeteria, followed the assemblies.

The following day, the new policy went into effect. Students would not be allowed to congregate in the hallways, auditorium lobby, parking lot or any other area in the building or school grounds. The candy store was shut down.

Students were instructed at the 7:10 AM bell to go to their lockers and then to their first hour class.

The policy was not a popular one, but the number of confrontations and fights immediately decreased. The policy has helped to restore student safety , but it also ended a popular tradition. Story, pictures and layout by C. Pack

I sorta like this look. I really like the duck shoes with the thick layerd socks. I like the penny loafers but you see them everywhere. The overalls are nice, it sorta brings out a fun-like personality in them.

Brad 3

This look is okay, I kinda like overalls and the Guess sign is even better. I like the Swatches and the way they did their hair but they don't look natural for some reason. They look stiff. Other than that they look okay.

Shane 3

I like the way they kind of half-way wear the overalls. As long as they wear their clothes with style so they don't look like farm girls it looks okay.

Bobby 3

It all depends on the type of girl wearing the overalls. Not too many ugly girls get attention no matter what they wear, but cute girls always do.

They are not that good. It might look better on different people. If they were tighter or closer they would be okay. It looks like something a rich person would wear.

I like the colors and different styles. They bring out the new look at WHS.

Todd 2

I like the minis, but the styles of them I don't like. I like more of the traditional tighter close fitting ones that hug the hips.

Anthony 3

I like the stone washed color and the preppy like style. It makes them seem like little sweet school girls.

Both females look good in their dresses. But I feel that on different people it might not look as good. The one in the black I like best because it seems more stylish to me.

Chris 3

These are pretty nice dresses but they aren't great. The black dress looks kind of like a dress you would wear to a funeral, but the white dress is a very nice dress.

Kurt 3

White I think is to flashy, it really stands out. The black dress is average. I think of black as more of a dress up dress.

Mona 3

The jean jacket outfit's not that stonewashed. I like the jacket with the fringe. There's nothing special about the rest. The other outfits nice. I like the way the shirt and pants go together.

Both oufits are okay. Everything matches! I could go for a different pair of shoes for both, something different or that you would notice. Also the one guys collar bothers me.

Eun Jin Lee 2

They both look ok. I really like the sweaters they're wearing. The only thing I really don't like is what the guy on the left is wearing under his sweater. I think it would have looked better with a black turtleneck.

Kristen 2

The shoes and the black jeand don't go. As for the person in the blue jeans, his outfit looks good. It is very casual, and neat looking.

Cessalie 2

Their clothes will get them to where they are going. I feel that Ellis should hve put on a black turtleneck and his dress would be complete. David's dress is fine. I'm personally, somewhat tired of this look, It's becoming uniform.

AFTER HIGH SCHOOL, MANY STUDENTS PERSUE PREPARING FOR COLLEGE, DECIDING WHICH ONE SCHOLARSHIPS AND TAKING THE ACT AND SAT

I remember my senior year when I would come home from school and find that my mailbox was jam packed with college literature. Deadlines for applications and scholarships approached very quickly. After filling out several applications, I reached the point where I could fill them out with my eyes closed. The procedure was always name, address, G.P.A., SAT/ACT scores, etc.,; it was such a tedious job. The decision-making process was so mind boggling that I did not even know if I would make it to college.

On the contrary, I think my decision was rationalized appropriately. For instance, money was a main concern. I knew that I would have to pay my own way; there was no free ride from mommy or daddy. Being that I also had a car to pay for, I had to find a happy medium between work and college. Futhermore, I was looking for a small college where I could hopefully get assistance from professors. It makes me feel better knowing that I am recognized by my name and not by a number. I have to admit that I have fantasized about attending college far away from home, because I had falling outs with my parents which made me want to leave state.

PATHWAY TO SUCCESS. Senior Delaine Adkins is among a few students who commute to the community college for one semester while also finishing up their high school year. This is the beginning for a successful college education. Photo by L. Brady.

The social life on campus is active. After a slip in grades, I realized that my party time had to be limited. My passing the ignitiation test to join a sorority made me feel as though I was right on top with my 'sisters'.

There is a big difference between college and high school when it comes to studies and disipline. In high school it seemed as though fouling up on one test would not make or break you. However, my final was my grade in english composition. I realized that homework was for my benefit and not for points. Extra credit is obsolete. Everyone is responsible for their own actions; foolishness is not tolerated. The laughing, pushing, and name calling is over with.

I found that college was my time to break free from the family nest I was sheltered by from day one. My decision to go to college has and will affect me for the rest of my life. There is a fear of not being able to succeed, but I was closer to realizing that my dreams can come true. Story and layout by C. Cogley.

FURTHER STUDIES IN COLLEGE. HOWEVER, TO GO TO, ADMISSIONS APPLICATIONS, TESTS CAN BE INTIMIDATING.

ACT & SAT Tests

Are They Fair?

Grades earned over a period of four years tell much more about chances for success than the scores earned on a Saturday morning standardized test.

Composite scores can be cruel putdowns to some students. 'So and so is better than me because he scored a 27, and I only scored a 23. I feel really dumb.' for this student a high G.P.A. earned over years of hard work is wiped out by a single number, determined over a period of three hours. Self-esteem hits an all-time low. Some brag and carry on about their test scores. Others hang their heads and try to avoid the subject.

Standardized tests taken for college admissions and possible scholarships are supposed to measure specific verbal and mathematical abilities that are alleged indicators of a student's ability to do academic work in college. In some ways, these tests measure ability to take tests.

There are some flaws in standardized tests. Such tests favor students with certain skills. Students who read and think quickly and work well under pressure, concentrating even in the presence of other nervous students and astrict monitor, are rewarded. Tests are designed for game players and students who like quick challenges, rather than long thought processes.

The ACT and SAT do not measure creativity, ability to relate to others, or motivation, all of which are important success factors. Test scores do not tell how students rank as people.

A student's G.P.A., the difficulty of courses taken, the extracurricular activities they participate in, and the quality of school they attend should outweigh one test score.

Test scores can tell colleges a great deal about the academic strengths and weaknesses of a student, but they do not give a complete profile of a student's achievements and abilities. Story by L. Goheen.

NEW LOOK/NEW ATTITUDE. Upon recalling her high school years, senior Anita Bush admits that she went through a time of growing up. Not only did her looks change, but also her attitudes and feelings about coming years.

Adulthood Sets In With Time

It was not too long ago when I came through the halls with my friends as wimpy freshman thinking that we could knock the school down by being loud and obnoxious. Watching students get taped up by the so called 'jocks' was one of the frivolous actions we got wrapped up in. It was a must to socialize with friends in the glass hallway before school. When asked if I was a senior, I would just play it off and say, 'Of course.' Time was spent writing love letters to Mr. Wonderful. Ha.

Now I look back and realize how far I have come. Maturity has taken its toll. I tend to look older and not so little 'girlish.' Yelling has come to a cease. I have become more opened minded and try not to shut people's opinions out. I am proud to say that I am one of the intellectuals.

High school days are long over; it is time to move on. When I am sitting in my office as a corporate lawyer, I can look back and say, despite how I have changed, that yes those were the good ole days. Story by C. Cogley.

SISTERLY LOVE AND FRIENDSHIP. 'We've been best friends since eighth grade. She keeps me out of trouble, and I make sure she's on time,' comments senior Susan Taylor. When asked about Susan, senior Alauna Elevier says, 'What she means to me I can't put into words, but you can see it when we are together.' Photo by E. Lee.

WHO IS THERE...

When you feel alone? When you need to talk? When you need to laugh? When you need motivation? When you need a hug?

When you need a smile? When you want to go out and have fun? When you are grounded on a Friday and Saturday night and you cannot leave the house?

When you need a shoulder to cry on? When you need protection?

Who is there...

To understand you when no one else seems to understand.

Sweat, Tears and Fun!

CHEERLEADING CAMP BRINGS NEW CHEERS, NEW FRIENDSHIPS AND NEW FUN!

Look At Four Nerve-Racking, Fun-Filled Days at Camp.

Dear Diary: Day 1 Bus Ride - BORING! You know how buses always take twice as long to get to one place. Make sure I have everything: pom pons, pillows, personal stuff, extra clothes and matching shirts and shorts. We weren't able to bring our school uniforms because they weren't in yet so we all had to buy matching outfits to wear at evaluations. During the day while we are learning new things and practicing, we wear other clothes. We left at 7:00 and got there at 10:00. YEA EMPORIA! We're here!

Check in time. Shana (our captain) got our room keys and Sunshine Book. A Sunshine Book is were we (the squad) evaluate ourselves each night after we perform. We decorate it for extra spirit points. There's also a Spirit Stick that our school tries to work for. All through the four days, the school that keeps their spirit strong and exhibits a positive attitude is awarded the Spirit Stick.

Our squad really worked hard in the summer. Practices started the third week in June two times a week early in the morning. Varsity held extra practices sometimes until 10:00 right up to the Sunday before we left for camp. Each squad had to take one cheer, two chants and a routine or skit. We have time before we go to the Lecture Hall. During this time doors, halls, and rooms are decorated. Shana, Kim and I are sharing a room together. We're gonna have so much fun!

After lunch we met in the Lecture Hall. The Dynamic Cheerleaders Association (DCA) Cheerleadering Staff was introduced. They're really good! Professionals! They teach us everything we'll be performing in the next couple of days. You've really got to know how to learn things fast because they teach it very fast. If you're not in shape your muscles will get sore. SO FAR - SO GOOD!

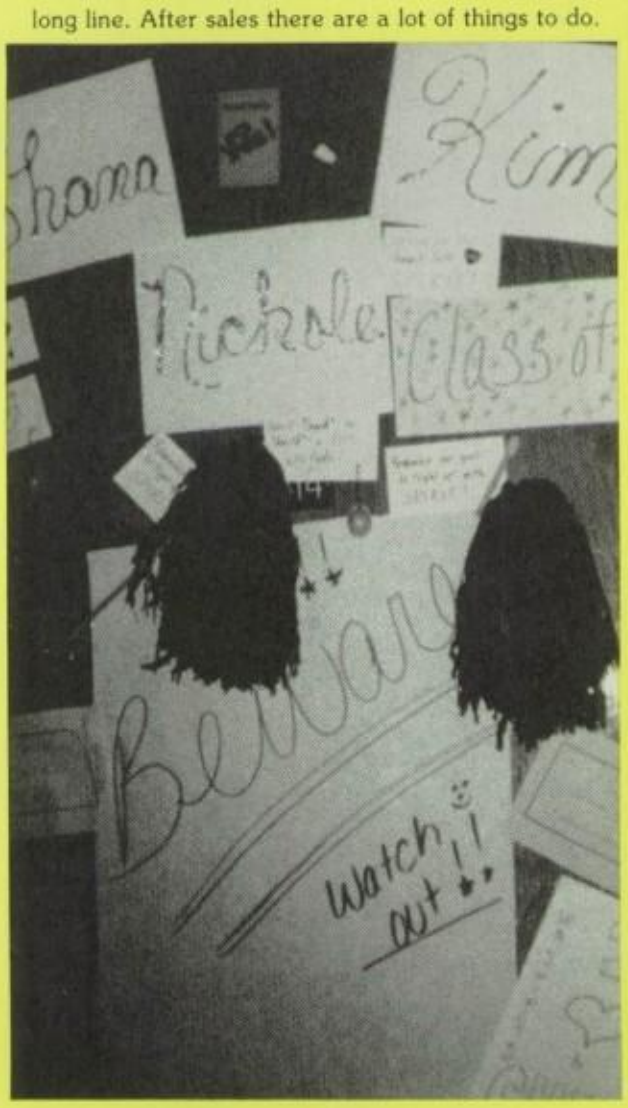
After dinner we reviewed the chants and cheers we've already learned. Evaluations take place every night about 6:00. Tonight we perform what we practiced all summer for. I'm not nervous because we've practiced for two months.

Evaluation is over. Our spirit for other schools and our own was fantastic. On the first night it always is! As a sqaud we evaluate ourselves - what the good things we did and what we think we need to improve on.

We were awarded Outstanding Cheering Skills which is the hardest award. It includes everything: spirit, leadership, jumps, stunts, and mounts.

We returned back to the Lecture Hall, reviewed and learned two new cheers. The DCA Staff always has surprises. Tonight they choose cheerleaders to model t-shirts that are on sale. Kimmie K.- our very own Varsity - was chosen. To close the night everyone sat with arms linked around each other and sang 'You Are My Friend.' It's a part of bringing the squad closer together.

Now the FUN and WORK really bagins!! Everyone has to be on their floor and by their door for room check at 9:45. The DCA Cheerleaders come around to check. If someone is not where they're supposed to be it knocks points off from your final score. At 10:00 sales begin in the lobby. T-shirts (like the one Kimmie modeled), jackets, bags, buttons, pins and sunglasses are bought. We went down immediatly because there is always a long line. After sales there are a lot of things to do.



PARTY! The theme tonight was TOGA! Some of us dressed up and went down for a while. Others ordered pizza, munched on their own food they brought and some practiced. At 10:30 Mrs. Riss (It will always be Miss Mac to us) gave us a pep talk and a little surprize. Varsity practiced for a while. Tomorrow we perform one DCA cheer and two new spirit chants.

Whew! First day is over. Only three more to go!

Dear Diary: Day 2 Breakfast at 7:45 - up at 7:00. Morning session begins at 8:45 in the Lecture Hall. We went over cheers, chants and the routine. After lunch we learned new mounts and creative extras.

Next we met in our goal groups. A goal goup is lead by a DCA Cheerleader. They help us and we let her know if we have a problem. We get to know other girls that way. If you have a really good leader it's fun. Lucky for us we did. Today we have an extensive practice for an hour. Our goal group leader helps us to improve our performance. During this practice Kim got hurt while jumping down from a mount we were trying. She sprained her ankle so she won't perform tonight.

We have a little time before we go to dinner so we changed into our matching outfits for evaluation. This evaluation will be harder. With only less than a day to practice, and Kim being unable tp perform - I'm nervous.

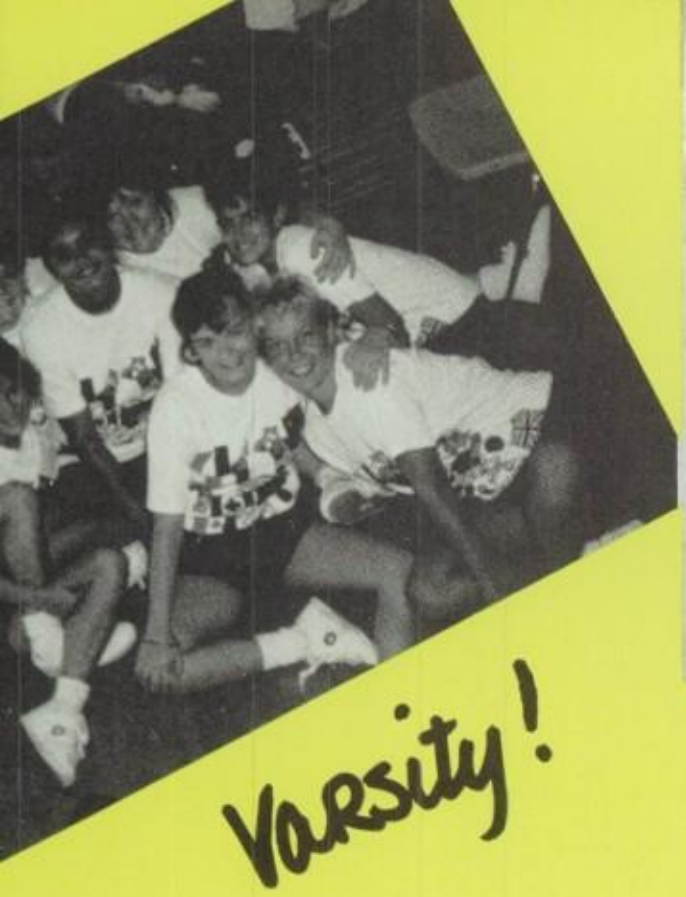
Evaluation - OK. Before the DCA Staff awarded ribbons, we had to evaluate our performance. We were awarded Outstanding Leadership.

We return to the same room and review what we've learned and the beginning of the fight song.

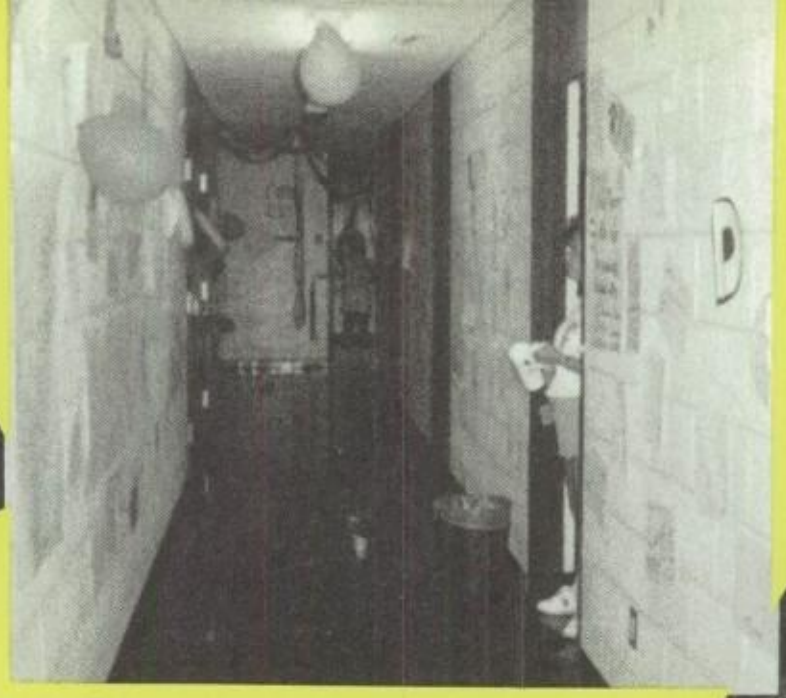
Tonight we have a Spirit Seminar where a couple of girls from each squad go and take notes. Kim, Shana and I went to Spirit Raising. They showed us how to boost spirit and keep it going - like selling buttons, cups and mini pom pons at the games.

The DCA surprize tonight is the modeling of Team Mates uniforms. We order our uniforms from this company. They picked cheerleaders to model. 9:45 - room check. The theme of tonights party is 'Back to Kindergarten.' I don't know how we're supposed to dress up but Varsity practiced anyway. Shana ordered pizza and we worked on our Sunshine Books.

Whew! Half way over!

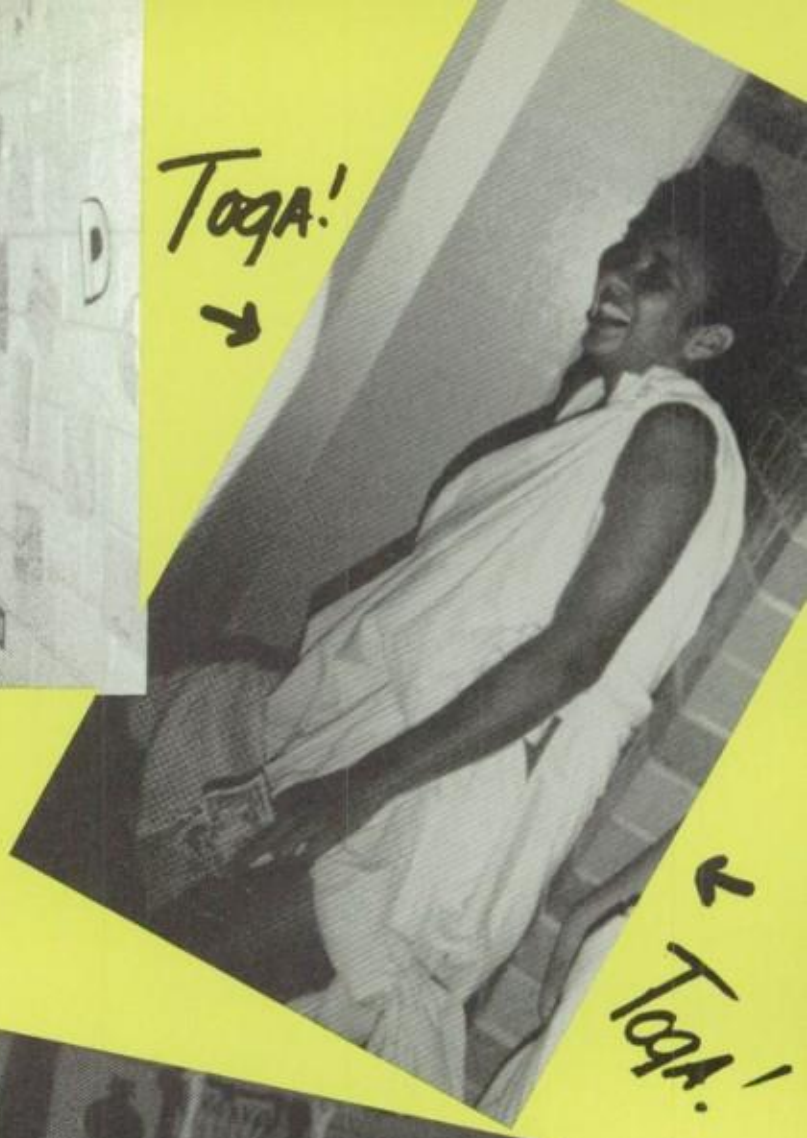


Varsity!

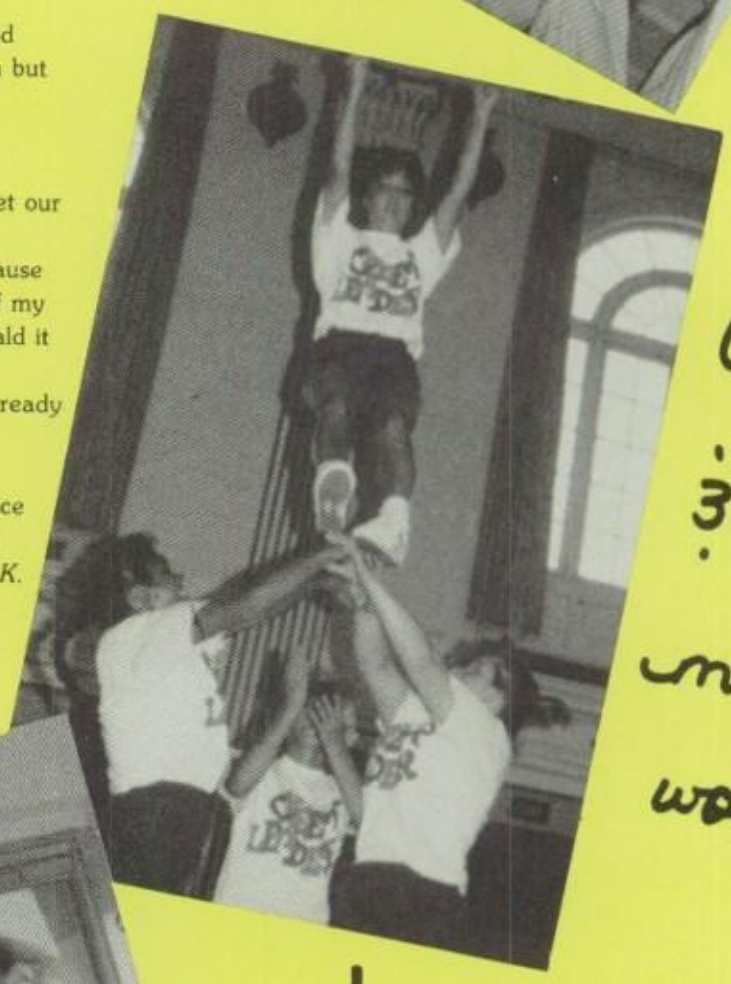


Decorating Halls Kim!

Toga!



Toga!



Up-Up 3 Away!

Dear Diary: Day 3 This morning we have to get up extra early. Breakfast at 7:30. Met in the Lecture Hall to review cheers, chants, and routine.

We have special classes today. Varsity chose advanced stunts and mounts. DCA demonstrated drops, mounts, and flips.

STAFF SURPRIZE! popsicles - YUM - really hit the spot.

Our goal groups met again. A two hour intensive practice began. Tonight we perform one cheer with a creative extra, two game and one spirit chant. This is were practice really gets frustrating. The first two days we had a lot of fun and fooled around. Now it's time to get serious. If the evaluation is perfect tonight we have nothing to worry about tomorrow because we perform the same cheers.

Performance - Varsity was called on deck (that means we're next up) I was so nervous. I think everyone was because we all knew we had to be the best. Last years Varsity took 1st and we want so much to keep that going.

Over! Everyone did their best. We were awarded Outstanding Spirit. I think we jumped more than we ever did. We handed in our Sunshine Books. Last night we stayed up late to finish it.

After evaluations we performed our pom pon routine from home.

The DCA Staff put on a pep rally and showed us how to use the same chants and cheers by just changing the words.

Room Check - We stayed up late to practice. Tomorrow is the final day. I'm so glad it's almost over.

Dear Diary Day 4 Last day - YEAH! Everything we've done this week counts for our final evaluation. FINAL performance. Kim is performing with us today.

On this last evaluation parents can come and watch you perform. I don't think anyone's parents came from our squad.

Over - I think we did OK. Now it's the hardest time of all - the waiting. Everyone gets in this big room and waits until they come out. I kept thinking to myself - we better get 1st we better get 1st - I'm sure everyone was thinking that too.

They announced '1st place' everyone was tense and holding hands.

'Varsity Wyandotte' Everyone cheered and laughed and cried. We were happy for them but not that happy.

'2nd place' We just had to get 2nd!

'Varsity Washington.' YEAH!! Everyone clapped and cheered while Shana went to get our ribbons.

As we walked away girls were crying because they didn't place. I was crying because all of my relief and tension came out in tears. I was gald it was over. But I had a lot a fun.

Everyone packed in a hurry. We were all ready to go home!

I'm gonna crash on the bus.

As we got off the bus Shana yelled 'Practice tomorrow.' PSYCH!! Layout and story by N. Peacher; photos by K. Closson, N. Peacher, K. Kincaid, M. Wolf.

'Tis the Holiday Season

CAROLING, HALLWAY DECORATIONS, PARTIES, PROGRAMS

The holiday season was stamped with the Wildcat touch this year. STUCO held a canned food drive. CATS members went caroling through the halls. The halls were bright and cheery as most teachers participated in an informal door decoration contest. The Salvation Army Christmas program for elementary children in the District was held once again at WHS. The music departments and Thespians provided entertainment. Most clubs celebrated the season by 'chowing down' on goodies. And, finally, a shout of HURRAH, when we finally got to leave for winter break.!

HOT IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE. Perhaps it is the body and good looks of Jon Bon Jovi that attracts so many fans. In any way, he is an asset to the group Bon Jovi who received the Best 1988 Pop Group Award.

Take a Ride on the Wild Side

BEING PART OF THE CROWD ALMOST AS EXCITING AS SEEING THE STARS

Oh! Check them out! Rushing to get a shirt, crowding for the best seat. The lights go out and the thousands become one as they fire up their lighters. Then, with the beating drums and roar of an electric guitar, the lights flare and out jumps the stars. The music draws the crowd closer. Some stand on chairs or jump on shoulders just to get a better look.

As the thousands sway and sing along, close to the stage some faint and others dehydrate, but most carry on. Soon the star will tell them a story they will not forget, about the song that made number one on the charts. Then he will divide the masses in half for a dual of which side can sing the best and the loudest.

Maybe it is the words and sounds or just the stars looks that makes the crowd crazy. With all the lights on him the guitarist plays a solo non-stop to the ground. The drummer rises in the air and lights flare from each beat that only gets faster as he gives his best. Once again the lights of the arena go out and the lighters fire up with a roar of words for more. Minutes go by and the croud continues. The stars come out for an encore.

One might think the night is over until they crush outside the doors and then the one become thousands as they gawk and depart from the arena. Layout, story by A. Elevier.

WE'RE NUMBER ONE. Kirby Puckett and Jeff Reardon of the Minnesota Twins start celebrating to their World Series victory.

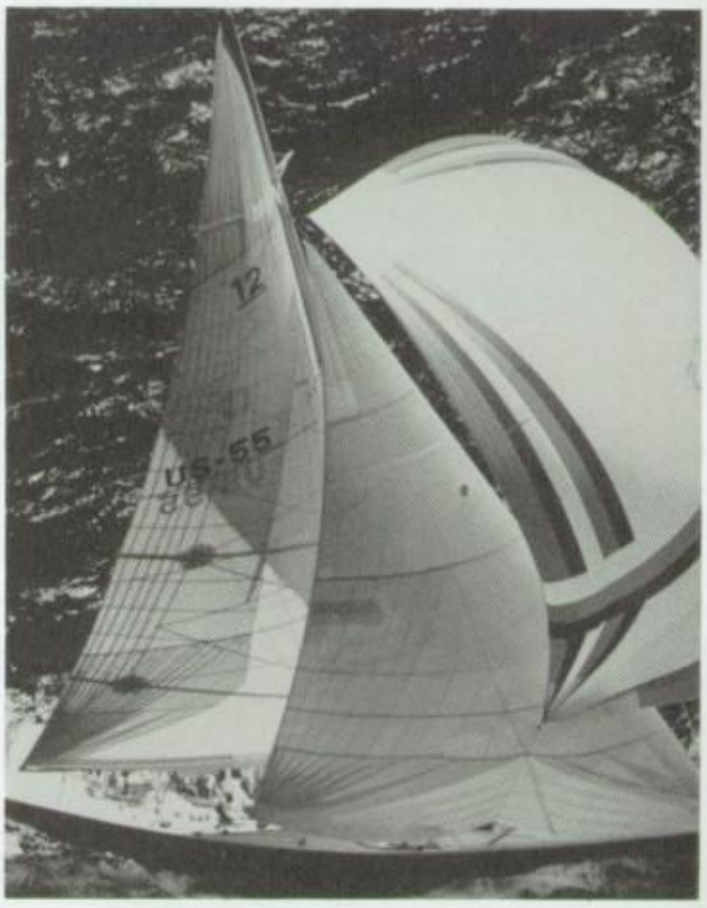
In the National Football League, a 24-day strike by the NFL players ended in mid-October when the union capitulated and went to court instead of trying to fight the club owners at the bargaining table.

The disease that frightened the people all over America is Aides. In the six years since Americans first heard of a mysterious immunity robbing disease which no one recovers, Aides has killed nearly 25,000 people. Millions of dollars have been poured into medical research and President Reagan has proclaimed the plague as the 'Public Health Enemy No. 1.'

WALKING ON A THIN LINE. Not only did a 24-day football strike disappoint players, but it also upset fans.

A STRONG STAND. People picket in hopes to get more extensive research done on AIDES, the number one disease.



SAILING IN THE WIND. Dennis Conner, the man who lost the America's Cup in 1983, won it back four years later. The Stars & Stripes completed a 4-0 sweep over Australia's Kookaburra III in the race that took place in Australia.

CHRISTIAN WAYS AND DEDUCTION TO SPORTS BRINGS OUT THE TALENT IN WILDCATS

insight

What does a varsity letter mean to you?

Kimmie Kincaid: You work hard every night and you get to show howhard you've worked. Your letter makes it worth it!

Lionel Henderson: Because it is a symbol that states that you have worked all season long and given your best effort to the team.

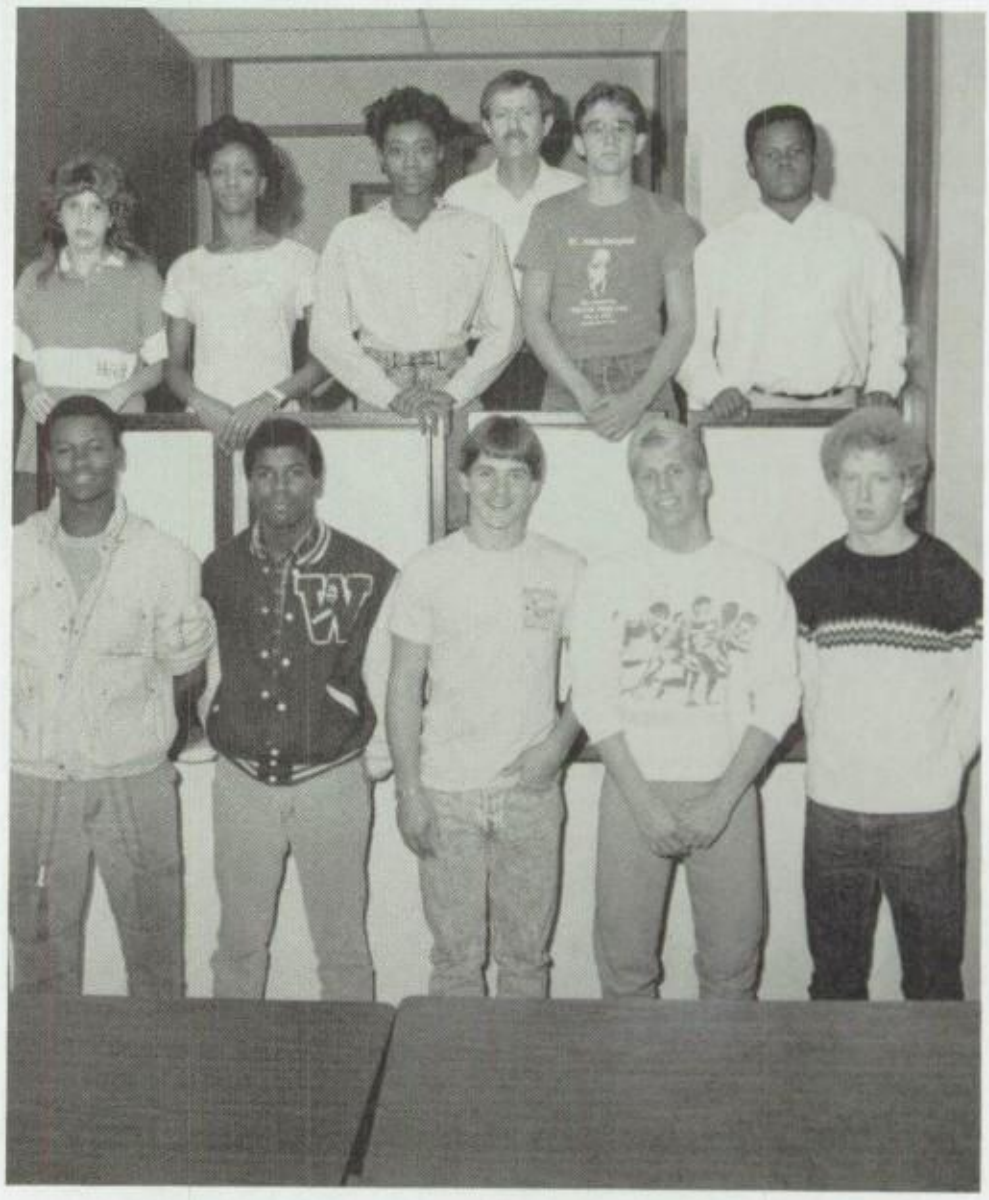
Forrest Wilson: Since we don't get the trophies from the school anymore, we athletes need something to show for our hard work.

Mary Renne: I felt that I had showed everything I had in me. Positive attitude is the best thing to have and having a varsity letter makes me feel outgoing. Be the best that's my motto.

Raymond Mabion: It shows a symbol of dedication and hard work.

Ted Ehrhardt: To me it shows a lot of hard work and dedicationto the school.

Brett Colboch: The big 'W' causes me to have pride and it givesme an inspirational feeling.



ON THEIR CHEST. The Letterman's club promotes school spirit by giving their best in their selected sports and proudly showing off the big W on the front of school jackets.

Picture it a trying pan that is sizzling hot then in goes the eggthat fries immediately. The egg is your brain, the pan is the drugs. JUST SAY NO! We have all seen that commercial, but do we say no? Well, some of us do and Stage 9 is some of us.

Stage 9 consist of three girls, Carlotte Moore, Shedresse Colding, andShana Cross. They act out plays dealing with drugs and other teenage problems. They try to get parents and peers to be aware of the problems because 'there is more to just saying no, you must deal with the problemof drugs.' says Carlotte.

Stage 9 was created by Channel 9. The network needed to focus on a teenage-problem for this year and drugs was the topic because of the serious cocaine, alcohol, and marijuana abuse among teenagers and adults as well.

Each girl got her start differently in acting. Carlotte got started by inspiring herself and being encouraged by others. Shedresse got hers whenher talent was discoverd by WHS drama teacher, Miss Mann. Shana was alittle different from the others. She wanted to sing but figured she should act and become famous that way and then cross over into singing. All have very proud parents and hope that their work will help someone.

JUST SAY NO! Everyone will be very happy if you JUST SAY NO!

On the Move Again!

SOME THINGS NEVER CHANGE. The 1987-88 Cardinelles may have had to adapt to new changes this year, but continuously giving outstanding performances is one tradition that they just never change.

LEARNING NEW MOVES AND BREAKING IN A NEW SPONSOR OPEN THE YEAR FOR THE CARDINELLES

DOUBLE TROUBLE. Pausing during a practice session, senior Kim Harris reviews problems in a routine with sponsor Mrs. Jerri Wadsworth.

FALL SCENERY. The football season just wouldn't be the same without halftime performances by the drill team.

BLACK TIE AFFAIR. The Cardinelles make it look easy, but their polished performances are perfected only after long hours of practice.

Making It Everybody's Business

SELLING, MARKETING, DISTRIBUTION, ADVERTISING, RESUMES, INTERVIEWS- WORKINGS OF THE BUSINESS WORLD STUDIED BY DECA STUDENTS

ON THE JOB. Students in the senior DECA program are eligible to earn high school credit and get a head start in the business world when they work in the DECA program.

ENTRY LEVEL. Members of the junior DECA program assist with such projects as selling Tom Watt products and contributing to the Salvation Army Christmas program.

CLUBS OFFER STUDENTS CHANCE TO PRACTICE THEIR SKILLS

GUMMY BEAR EXPERTS. One of the most popular fund raisers at Washington is when the German Club sells the now-famous, ever-popular, chewy Gummy Bears.

GUTEN WHAT? Junior Gwen Kesler, senior Randy Pasley, sophomore Eun Jin Lee and senior Jerry Bolin, officers of the German Club, help coordinate the building of gingerbread houses during the holiday season.

NAPOLEON LOOK ALIKES. Officers of the French Club seniors Lisa Gilpin, Brian LaBouff, David Lusk, and Dexter Raimey plan the months events along with adviser Sylvester Morris.

RIGHT moves ... places

RIGHT STEPS PROVIDE FOR BETTER COMPETITION AND FOCUS BETWEEN PEERS

SHUTTERBUGS. The Photo Club successfully took and sold 'Spirit Week' pictures as a fundraiser to help pay for their field trips and supplies.

STRATEGY. Chess Club members learn to win through opening game and end game moves - moves they can use through life.

FAST ACTION. Junior Scott Smith delays no longer and makes his move against his opponent.

SUPPORT STAFFS OFFER PROFES-SIONAL SERVICES FOR STUDENTS

In 1970 a dream came true.
It didn't come in purple or in blue.

You brought more joy than you will ever know.

Good luck in life, God I love you so.
